

Little Changes Can Make a BIG Difference

Southwest Gas now has a new rate mechanism that allows us to recover our fixed costs of service while helping our customers use less energy. While the new rate mechanism doesn't look much different, it ensures Southwest Gas will recover no more or less than the costs authorized by state regulators. In addition, we have new rebate programs that help make energy-efficient appliances more affordable for our customers. More efficient appliances equal lower utility bills for customers. Remember, little changes can make a big difference...conserve and save!
