OPPORTUNITY SCHOOL

Ever wonder how to make yourself more promotable? Are you interested in changing departments? Do you wonder if you've got "the right stuff" to be a supervisor? Now you have a chance to find out.

Opportunity School is conducted throughout the division each year. This workshop will help employees understand the criteria for career development and help them develop individual action plans to pursue their career goals.

The "school" consists of two separate one-hour sessions, the completion of an individual career-planning guide, and a meeting with the employee's supervisor to review the contents of the planning guide.

Opportunity School is strictly voluntary and employees attend on their own time.
