To Pay Your Southwest Gas Bill

— Automatic Payment Plan (APP)

No more writing checks, mailing envelopes, or standing in line. APP allows you to pay your gas bill with an automatic withdrawal from your checking or savings account.

The Equal Payment Plan (EPP) is a convenient program for residential customers that evenly distributes your annual gas costs into estimated equal monthly payments. Your usage will be reviewed on a quarterly basis and your payment may be adjusted. By enrolling in APP and EPP, you will know what the amount of your bill will be each month and be assured that it will be paid on time.

— Credit Cards

Western Union® Speedpay® offers the option of paying your gas bill with a credit, debit/ATM card, or electronic check. Call toll-free, 1-866-263-5188, or log on to the Southwest Gas Web site for details. A vendor-convenience fee will apply. All charges will be reflected on your bank or credit card statement.

— Electronic Payment

Southwest Gas processes electronic payment through various online payment providers. Payments can be processed from the convenience of your home or anywhere else via the Internet. In most cases, financial institutions may provide electronic payment service. A vendor service fee may apply, please check with your electronic payment provider.

If you prefer not to receive a paper bill in the mail, you can enroll with CheckFree, our E-bill provider, to view your bill electronically. E-bill is a free service. For more information, visit our Web site at www.swgas.com.

— Mail

One of the easiest ways to pay your gas bill is to mail it. Just insert your payment with the bill stub in the return envelope.

— Pay Stations

Imagine paying your gas bill while shopping or running errands. A variety of convenient pay stations are located throughout our service territories. Many of the locations offer extended hours. A vendor-convenience fee will apply. Visit our Web site to locate a pay station near you.

— In addition to our payment options

A Southwest Gas gift announcement is a certificate notifying a gift recipient that money has been applied toward their gas bill. A gift announcement can be purchased at any Southwest Gas Customer Assistance Office.
