

Natural Gas – the Heart of Your Home

When you turn on the heat this winter, be sure to turn to natural gas. With a natural gas heating system, air circulates quickly, without the damp, cool draftiness of an electric heat pump. It assures you of comfort that's affordable and reliable, while leaving behind a smaller carbon footprint.

ENERGY SAVING TIPS

A properly maintained system will provide many years of reliable operation, so have a licensed heating contractor inspect your system annually. Call 1-800-654-2765 to find out about a special home heating inspection offer, available in most areas.

BE A SMART SHOPPER

When upgrading or replacing an older system, it's great to know that new energy-efficient natural gas systems are up to 98% efficient and can generate between 15-30% savings on energy bills.

ENERGY SAVING TIPS

- Set your heating thermostat at 65°F to 68°F in the winter, health permitting, and lower it when you're away from home.
- Change the air filters for your heating system regularly (at least every three months).
- Install a programmable thermostat and set it to accurately follow your schedule.
- Seal leaks around doors, windows, and other openings with caulking or weather-stripping.
- Dress for the weather even when you're inside. If it's cold outside, dress in warm layers.
