SAFE GRILLING TIPS

As we head into peak grilling months to enjoy the outdoors, we're sharing some grilling tips to ensure you and your family enjoy the summer grilling season safely. Be sure to start with a clean grill and check gas hoses for holes, cracks, and leaks.

If you need your natural gas grill connected, visit swgas.com/referrals to find a contractor in your area who's participating in the Appliance Connection Program or call our Energy Specialists at 800-654-2765.

DID YOU KNOW?

CO₂ emissions from homes using natural gas for space/water heating, cooking and clothes drying are about 22% lower than all-electric homes.*

TRENCH SAFETY STAND DOWN

Southwest Gas is proud to team up with the National Utility Contractors Association (NUCA) to support Trench Safety Stand Down week. The goal of the Stand Down is to reach out to team members who work in and around trenches to reinforce safety measures unique to that work environment.
